This has been a difficult newsletter to write because it is distressing and will make all decent people angry. The following pages detail the latest attacks on the family and in particular on innocent young children. As Catholic parents, our duty is to educate our children in the Catholic Faith, it is also our God given right, but this is being undermined by the actions of the Irish hierarchy.

Across Ireland our “catholic” schools welcome transgender ideology, and invite groups like ‘Belong To’ -- to promote the LGBT ideology in schools. This is not education rather it is brainwashing and indoctrination into an evil and anti-Christian lifestyle. That a Catholic bishop would allow this to be taught in his schools makes him at the very least negligent but also raises serious questions about his commitment to safeguarding children from abuse. Be under no illusions - this is abuse - emotional and psychological abuse of innocent young minds. It is designed to undermine the relationship between parents and their children. Whoever collaborates with this war on children - especially if they remain silent when made aware of the facts - is guilty of complicity with evil.

Let us be very clear, the Liberal Left have taken over the education sector and they now train the teachers who go on to teach our children. Sir Roger Scruton, the famous English political philosopher, has pointed out that one of the greatest cancers is the existence in our education system of Leftist ideologues and activists. We cannot have our enemies educating our children. We would not allow Nazis to teach our children but we now have equally deranged activists perverting our children. They brainwash our children with nice words such as “inclusion” and “tolerance” and openly teach them chronic degeneracy.

The only answer to this is for prophetic and radical Church leadership - from both clerics and laity - so that we can move away from our society's obsession with secularism and anti-clericalism and return to Christianity, the very basis of our civilisation. Our children do not need to be exposed to the false gender ideology which is designed to corrupt and pollute their minds turning them against Christ and teaching them to reject God's plan for family.

In England when similar legislation was introduced it was Muslim parents who protested and we Catholics must do the same. God gave Catholic parents the responsibility to make sure that their children were properly educated in the Faith. He will hold us to account for this wonderful and onerous task. The greatest act of love we can give our children is to teach them about God's plan for their lives and do our best to guide them to heaven - this is why we cannot abandon them to this evil nor leave it to Muslims to do the work - ours is a fighting faith and we must join the battle.

But the struggle in which we are engaged is, at root, a spiritual battle - and requires spiritual weapons. We need to be honest about what is happening in this hour of history. The failure to defend the fundamental human right to life, the effort to undermine marriage and the family and society founded upon it - and the erosion of the fundamental right of religious freedom - all point to a moral malady rotting the foundations of freedom upon which Western civilisation rests.

Jesus tells the believers to "Go into the whole world and proclaim the Gospel to every creature."

In the coming weeks we will be rolling out a campaign of resistance against this war on our children details of how you can help will be found in the pages of Catholic Voice and on our website. It has never been easy to be a Christian and it's not supposed to be easy! The world, the flesh, and the devil will always love their own, and will always hate us. As Jesus once predicted, they hated me, they will certainly hate you. But his Mother also gave the solution to this hate.

"Remember O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to your protection, implored your help, or sought your intercession was left unaided. Inspired with this confidence, I fly unto you, O Virgin of virgins, my Mother."

Therefore let us place our confidence in the power of her maternal prayers and beseech Our Lady to protect our children, to guide our leaders, and to turn our hearts to her Son.

Protecting Our Children From Harm

In today's world a huge global and co-ordinated attack has been launched on children which seeks to indoctrinate them from as early an age as possible into the corrupt LGBT way of thinking. This ideological agenda will do grave harm to many of the children who are subject to it. This agenda is currently being implemented in Irish schools.

In the natural order of civilisation, parents provide for the needs of their children and parents also protect their children from harm by outsiders. Traditionally, the State was supposed to provide help to parents so that their children could grow up in a safe and relatively care free environment. In Ireland however, it is the corrupt State which seeks to impose a dangerous ideology onto Catholic children and they either ignore or disregard parents all the while paying lip service to the mantra that, 'parents are the primary educators of their children'. They do this through the school system using 'Relationships and Sexuality Education' and 'Social and Personal Health Education' programmes within the school system. They also corrupt children through various youth groups.

Catholic parents in Ireland and other countries, need to be very vigilant and they need to wake up to what is going on in order to be able to protect their own children from harm. At first sight, these programmes seem to be harmless enough to the unsuspecting parent. They are presented in colourful publications with good sounding aims and objectives such as, 'preventing bullying', 'stopping the Hate', but their underlying theme is indoctrinating very young children into accepting the morally corrupting and mortally sinful same-sex sexual lifestyle.

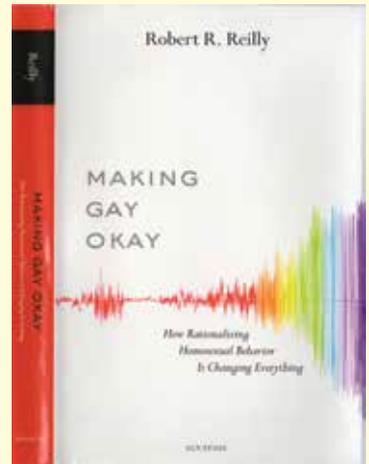

The Methodology of the LGBT Ideologists

In his book 'Making Gay OK', Robert R. Reilly quotes the homosexual author Urvashi Vaid who declared, "We have an agenda to create a society in which homosexuality is regarded as healthy, natural, and normal. To me that is the most important agenda item." The 'wikipedia' entry for Urvashi Vaid says that "she pushed gay issues into the public eye through coordinated media manipulation...".

Wikipedia describes 'media manipulation' as, "a series of related techniques in which partisans create an image or argument that favours their particular interests. Such tactics may include the use of logical fallacies, psychological manipulations, outright deception, rhetorical and propaganda techniques, and often involve the suppression of information or points of view by crowding them out, by inducing other people or groups of people to stop listening to certain arguments..." In our own day such techniques also include the use of name-calling against those who do not agree with or who oppose the proposed agenda. Thus the terms 'homophobic', 'transphobic', 'biphobic' and 'bully', are used against Catholics who publicly uphold Catholic Church teaching on human sexuality. This name calling effectively silences many people.

Robert Reilly's book also has a chapter on 'The Power of Rationalisation' where he talks about the need of those who engage in immoral behaviour to justify that behaviour and to seek acceptance for it. Speaking of the homosexual movement's underlying dynamic "if you rationalise my behaviour, I'll rationalise yours" he says (our emphasis):

"If you are going to centre your public life on the private act of sodomy, you had better transform sodomy into a highly moral act. If sodomy is a moral disorder, it cannot be legitimately advanced on the legal or civil level. On the other hand, if it is a highly moral act, it should - in fact, must - serve as the basis for marriage, family (adoption), and community. As a moral act, sodomy should be normative. If it is normative, it should be taught in our schools as a standard. If it is a standard, it should be enforced..."

A Look At The Situation In Ireland

Catholic parents who have been following the situation in Ireland with regards to the proposed new 'Relationships & Sexuality Education Programme', will be all too aware that the LGBT movement in Ireland is making great strides in advancing their cause. 'Same-sex marriage' has been legalised and 'same-sex couples' can legally adopt children. Their final strategy is to normalise the homosexual lifestyle by teaching it in our schools and by making it compulsory for children to attend this teaching. There is a huge and well financed international movement which helps them to accomplish this objective.

In order to find out how this ideology so successfully permeates Irish society one needs to have a look at the organisations that are involved. I would like to concentrate on the LGBT organisation, 'Belong-To', as this will give Catholic parents a great insight into how these organisations ultimately target your children for indoctrination.

So who are 'Belong-To' and what do they do? Their website tells us the following.

Supporting Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual &
Trans Young People in Ireland

“BeLonG To Youth Services is the national organisation supporting lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and intersex (LGBTI+) young people in Ireland. Since 2003, we have worked with LGBTI+ young people, between 14 and 23 years, to create a world where they are equal, safe, and valued in the diversity of their identities and experiences. We also advocate and campaign on behalf of young LGBTI+ people, and offer a specialised LGBTI+ youth service with a focus on mental and sexual health, alongside drug and alcohol support. We respond to the needs of LGBTI+ young people in Ireland and we help them thrive.”

To understand how well connected these people are you just have to look at the chairman of their board. Her name is Nikki Gallagher, and before she joined the board of 'Belong-To', she was a Senior Communications Manager at the Ombudsman for Children's Office and a Press Officer for the Fine Gael party. The Fine Gael party is now led by an openly homosexual man, Leo Varadkar, and they have appointed an openly homosexual woman, Katherine Zappone, as Minister for Children and Youth Affairs. These people have no problem promoting the homosexual ideology to your very young children, in fact, they believe that they have a right to do so with or without your consent.

LGBT Infiltration

One of the principle means of spreading LGBT errors is to infiltrate state organisations, civil organisations, schools & colleges and the Catholic Church, in order to influence these groups into promoting the false LGBT ideological agenda. The annual reports and financial statements of the 'Belong-To' organisation reveal how they carry out this mission. They have become very well connected. For example, 'Belong-To' hosts one of their LGBT meetings for young people in Dublin, in the Office of the Ombudsman for Children.

'Belong To' received funds of just under one million euros in 2018. €643,284 came through state donations, including funds from the HSE, the department of education, and the department of children.

The 'Belong To' organisation's 'Stand Up' campaign, which seeks to normalise the homosexual lifestyle to school children under the guise of preventing bullying, is supported by the department of Education. In 2018, 43% of second level schools in Ireland took part in this campaign which they claim reached 162,000 students. They trained 172 secondary school teachers with their propaganda in 2018 and they also corrupt certain young people by training them as peer educators, to spread the erroneous messages among young people.

The 'Belong To' website for teaching young people about human sexuality, which they promote in Catholic schools, has an image of a banana with a condom on it. These are the people who have ready access to your young Catholic children in their schools? They are also campaigning to have their false ideology included in Relationships & Sexuality Education (RSE) in Catholic schools.

The two main teachers organisations in Ireland, the INTO and the TUI, also work with 'Belong To' to promote acceptance of the homosexual lifestyle in Catholic schools. The TUI in their May 2019 newsletter recommend legislation to remove the influence of ethos in the teaching of RSE. The INTO host competitions promoting the same-sex lifestyle in primary schools and they recommend books to schools which promote falsehoods to children regarding human sexuality. These books teach very young children that some children can have two mothers or two fathers or that some children can have a girl's brain in a boy's body. One of the grave dangers of our times is that these people can bypass parents by providing resources to children on the Internet and through the clever use of social media. Many parents are unaware of, or do not exercise control over their children's Internet and social media viewing habits.

Surely The Bishops Will Protect Our Children?

The anti-Catholic infiltration of organisations includes many that were set up under the direction of the Catholic Church in Ireland. Some examples.

The Ferns Diocesan Youth Services (FDYS), was set up in 1965 and part of its remit is “the advancement of religion among young people”. FDYS has received €9,000 in funding from ‘Belong To’ to help set up LGBT groups in the diocese for young people. On their website they have announced that they will take part in the ‘Gay Pride’ parade in Dublin for the first time this year. A Catholic priest of the Ferns Diocese serves on the board of directors. They also receive over 2 million in funding from various government departments.

The Kerry Diocesan Youth Services (KDYS), was set up in 1971 and part of its remit is the “vocational and spiritual development of young people..”. KDYS has received €5,000 from ‘Belong To’ to help set up LGBT groups in the Diocese for children as young as thirteen. These young children are encouraged to take part in either the Dublin or Cork ‘Gay Pride’ parades. KDYS receives over 4 million in funding from various government departments. A Catholic priest serves on the board of KDYS and signs off on their accounts. The bishop of Kerry did not respond when asked about encouraging 13 year olds to take part in ‘Gay Pride’ parades.

In the Ossory Diocese a weekly LGBT meeting is hosted in one of their parish centres.

In the Elphin Diocese, ‘Belong To’ have provided LGBT training for school teachers using a premises owned by the diocese and there is also a weekly LGBT meeting hosted in the same premises.

In the Dublin Archdiocese the Catholic Marino Institute whose first guiding principle is to “Be supportive of the Mission of Catholic education by assisting processes to articulate the ethos of Catholic education and by proposing models of education to implement it” has worked with the LGBT organisation ‘Belong To’ to develop an LGBT programme for use in Catholic Primary Schools. Another school in the archdiocese recently announced plans to allow boys to wear girl’s clothes to school if they so wish.

Catholic parents cannot rely on their bishop to protect their children.

What Must Catholic Parents Do?

Catholic parents have the primary duty to educate their children in the Truths of the Catholic Faith and to protect them from all harm, including the harm caused by the promotion of false ideologies based on 'lies', regardless of where these falsehoods are coming from and regardless of who is allowing them to be promoted.

Civil society and the institutional Catholic Church in Ireland have both been deeply infiltrated by the false LGBT ideology. The Irish bishops 'Amoris' programme, produced for the World Meeting of Families in 2018, promoted the LGBT ideology. Many teachers in Catholic schools are promoting the LGBT ideology despite these schools having Catholic bishops as their patrons. The Irish government, along with many western governments is moving to criminalise and penalise those who publicly uphold Catholic teaching on human sexuality.

In the face of these realities and threats to children, it is incumbent on Catholic parents first of all to take whatever measures are necessary to protect their own children from those adults who seek to indoctrinate them with falsehoods concerning human sexuality.

Like Noah in the Old Testament, we must build our homes into Arks to protect our families from the LGBT ideologists. It is no coincidence that these ideologists have stolen the sign of God's covenant with Noah, the Rainbow, in order to promote their diabolical perversion of God's design for male and female. Catholic families must take up the cross and must prepare to resist the LGBT movement.

Catholic parents must come together wherever possible in an effort to reclaim our Catholic schools and to remove these pernicious influences from affecting children. We must come together to look at the possibility of starting new Catholic schools where the corruption has gone too deep or in schools where most of the parents have already succumbed. Some parents will need to look at home schooling and all will need help.

This is a time for hope, and as in Noah's time, this is also time for building and we must build with confidence in our Catholic Faith and in Christ's promise that He will not abandon us.
